You can see your institute/consortium name on the top of home page.

The screenshot shows the top portion of the ScienceDirect website. At the top is a blue header bar. Below it is a navigation bar with a search box on the left, a user profile area on the right, and navigation links for 'Journals', 'Books', and 'Sign in'. The user profile area displays 'Your institute/Consortium name' in red text, with a red circle highlighting the text 'Brought to you by: INFLIBNET Centre'. Below the navigation bar is a large, stylized map graphic with street names like 'MARLBOROUGH NEWS', 'BLENNHEIM NEWS', 'NOEL STREET', and 'PORTLAND NEWS'. Below the map is a search section titled 'Explore scientific, technical, and medical research on ScienceDirect'. It includes a sub-header 'Search for peer-reviewed journals, articles, book chapters and open access content.' and a search form with input fields for 'Keywords', 'Author name', 'Journal/book title', 'Volume', 'Issue', and 'Page', followed by a green search button. A link for 'Advanced search' is located below the search form.
